

FCC,

I am writing in hopes that you will NOT allow LPFM stations to expand, which would allow them to take precedence over current FM translator services. Myself and my family currently listen to K-Love which uses a FM translator service. This is the only contemporary Christian radio station in my area for my family to listen to. This station provides up-lifting music that I know my kids are safe listening to. It offers encouraging, moralistic, non-violent, non-vulgar music for young people to have an alternative to instead of what is currently being broad casted in most of today's music. This music has deeply affected my life and my families and it would be a detriment if it were to be eliminated from the airways.
